CLIMBER 1989

West Bridgewater Public Library
80 Howard Street
West Bridgewater, Ma 02379

WEST BRIDGEWATER JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

WEST BRIDGEWATER, MA

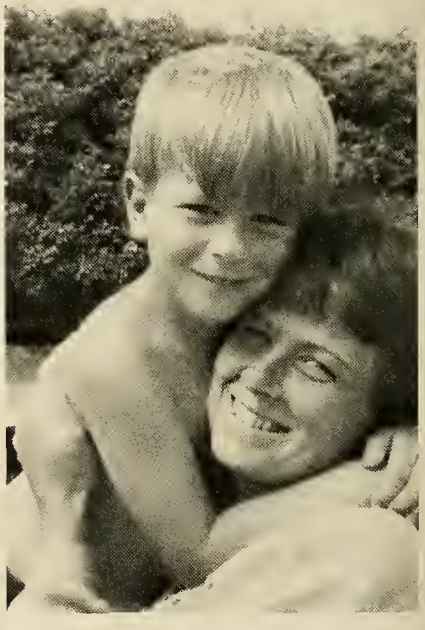

It is with sincere admiration and affection that we, the Class of 1989, dedicate our yearbook, the 1989 CLIMBER, to Nancy Emord. As a teacher and a friend, Mrs. Emord personifies Henry Brook Adams quote:

> "A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

We, as individuals, will always remember her courage and compassion.

Nancy Ohlson was born on July 2, 1952, the daughter of Carl and Majorie Ohlson. She was the second of four children and attended West Bridgewater schools. She graduated in 1970.

In 1974, Nancy Ohlson graduated from Bridgewater State College (with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Physical Education). Along with teaching she also coached Girls' Field Hockey, Basketball and Softball.

In June of 1974 she married Robert Dwyer who was a Physical Education teacher and a coach in the system. After their two sons were born, Nancy took time off from teaching, but she continued coaching. Leaving West Bridgewater, they moved to Carver.

In February of 1980 Robert Dwyer was diagnosed as having cancer. Throughout this time they both continued teaching. On Christmas Day in 1982 Robert Dwyer passed away.

In 1984, Nancy Dwyer met and later married Thomas Emord. At this time they continue to live in Carver with their three children: Jimmy, David, and Michael.

Mrs. Emord, your courage and perseverance have been a lesson to us all.

Nancy and a friend!

DR. RONALD P. GERHART
Superintendent of Schools

TO THE CLASS OF 1989:

For the Class of 1989, I suggest that your graduation from West Bridgewater High School be considered as a beginning rather than an end. As a class, you have contributed much to the spirit of your school. Indeed, your accomplishments in academics and in athletics have been most commendable.

You graduate into a rapidly changing world. Jobs that you prepare for will be changing within a few years of your entry. Some adjustment will be necessary as you meet the challenges of each day, year, and decade. It is an exciting time — I wish you well.

Perhaps this quote from Ralph Waldo Emerson will be of some help.

Finish each day and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities no doubt crept in — forget them as soon as you can. Tomorrow is a new day: begin it well and serenely, and with too high a spirit to be cumbered with your old nonsense.

It is a privilege for me to serve as your School Superintendent. I have enjoyed being with you and my very best wishes go with every member of the Class of 1989.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1989

Congratulations upon your successful completion of your high school experience. There is no single blueprint for success, therefore your success might well be determined by your individual personality, ability and character. During high school years, you have had provided the opportunity to build personal success and school and community pride with the vast majority of you developing a genuine and positive attitude toward this end.

The mutual affections, friendships and loyalties shared during your high school years will most likely change. For most of you, your new freedom will be exhilarating, but for some, could become terrifying if your independence is not manageable. Substance and good will prevail. The positive achievements and activities of your class will serve to remind us of the "Growing Up" you experienced at WBHS.

Graduation is the end of one phase of your life and the beginning of another. As you embark on your future course I am confident that you are prepared and have attained the maturity to be successful in today's challenging world. Congratulations, sincere best wishes and many years of happiness upon your graduation.

S. Erick Benson
Principal

Assistant Principal

Mr. Patrick F. Jackman

"Some men see things as they are and ask why; others dream things that never were and ask why not?" These are not the words of a dreamer. They are the words of Senator Robert Kennedy, a pragmatist who knew that all things are possible for those who believe in themselves and have the drive and commitment to attain their goals.

Your education has given you the information, the experiences, and the skills you need to pursue whatever you will do next. Your family and your teachers have given you the love and support to come to know yourself and to believe in yourself. It is now time to continue to work hard, to continue to seek your goals and ultimately to be all that you can be.

The way may be explicitly clear at this time, but be assured, the fine qualities and characteristics that have brought you to this exciting time of graduation will see you through the next phase of your life. A belief in yourself, a clear commitment to your goals, and a passionate drive will ensure your attainment of all that you dare to dream!

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 1989!

Patrick F. Jackman
Assistant Principal

Guidance

Miss Judtih McHenry

Graduation opens doors for you. It can lead to a life of achievement and fulfillment. You need only to greet each new day as special, for it is different from yesterday and surely it will never be the same as tomorrow.

I admire people who dare to pursue what they dream. Through perserverance, effort, curiosity and courage, they seem to be able to climb mountains, to find beauty and to create opportunities. These successful people seem to possess a genuine compassion and respect for self and others.

Learning is a vital key to this success. Keep working to improve yourself and to share your discoveries and your dreams will be fulfilled.

INTRODUCTION

Upon graduation, we will venture forth and face the world and all its challenges. Yet we will not embark on this trip alone- We will bring with us the hopes, dreams, memories, and friendships that we made at WBHS. These friendships are our most precious possessions, as valuable as gold and silver. The friendships we make in high school are like no others: they are forever shining and pure. No matter where our hopes and dreams may lead us, we will always remember the good times we shared at West Bridgewater High School.

We Learned It All In Kindergarten

ROBERT FULGHUM

Most of what I really need to know about how to live, and what to do, and how to be I learned in kindergarten. Wisdom was not at the top of the graduate school mountain, but there in the sandbox.

These are the things I learned: Share everything. Play fair. Don't hit people. Put things back where you found them. Clean up your own mess. Don't take things that aren't yours. Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody. Wash your hands before you eat. Live a balanced life. Learn some and think some, and draw and sing and dance and play and work every day some.

Take a nap in the afternoon. When you go out into the world, watch for traffic, hold hands and stick together. Be aware of wonder. Remember the little seed in the plastic cup. The roots go down and the plant goes up, and nobody really knows why, but we are all like that.

Goldfish and hamsters and white mice and even the little seed in the plastic cup — they all die. So do we.

And then remember the book about Dick and Jane and the first work you learned, the biggest word of all: look. Everything you need to know is in there somewhere. The golden rule and love and basic sanitation. Ecology and politics and sane living.

Think of what a better world it would be if we all had cookies and milk about three o'clock every afternoon and then lay down with our blankets for a nap. Or if we had a basic policy in our nation and other nations always to put things back where we found them and cleaned up our own messes. And it is still true, no matter how old you are, when you go out into the world, it is best to hold hands and stick together.
